

Black Dragon Scale Powder

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Dull black-green flakes with a sharp vinegar bite.
- Simple Test: Touch with a wet iron probe: tiny pits appear after several seconds.
- Handling: Wipe any probe used for testing before it touches skin or other samples. The bite in the air is sharp enough to sting the eyes up close.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Blessed Hart Antler Powder

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Fine white crystals with a clean mineral scent.
- Simple Test: Add to polluted water: the water visibly clears.
- Handling: Keep dry and sealed. A damp sample clumps and will not disperse cleanly when tested.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Bluecap Spores

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Powdery blue spores with a sweet bread smell.
- Simple Test: Breathe across them: they puff into a blue ring and settle.
- Handling: Do not inhale the puff directly. Test with the container held at arm's length and breathe across, not into, the spores.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Charcoal of Salamander Bone

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Black powder with glowing red flecks and a cold-fireplace smell.
- Simple Test: Hold it near flame: red flecks brighten without burning.
- Handling: Keep the sample dry and away from ash pits. It will not ignite on its own, but it clumps if it gets damp.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Cinder Reed

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Hollow red-brown reed with a peppery smoke scent.
- Simple Test: Blow through it: the far end exhales a brief ember glow.
- Handling: Keep away from open flame and dry tinder. The glow is brief and harmless, but repeated blowing wears the reed out.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Echo Seed

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Pale seed that clicks softly when rolled.
- Simple Test: Roll it around the empty cauldron: it repeats the last tap.
- Handling: Test it in the empty cauldron only. It picks up ambient tapping and knocking, so a noisy table can give a false result.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Fire Beetle Gland

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: A small glistening lobed sac, dark orange-red and shot through with fine veining, wrapped in a tough translucent membrane. It smells of hot metal and burnt cinnamon. The vial feels warm to the touch.
- Simple Test: Squeeze it gently near a flame: the oily fluid inside glows through the membrane but does not ignite.
- Handling: Keep away from open flame until testing. The vial runs warm on its own; do not seal it inside a pocket for long stretches.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Frostsalt

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Translucent blue grains that sting the nose like cold air.
- Simple Test: Sprinkle on warm water: a skin of ice forms in seconds.
- Handling: Keep the container sealed and away from bare skin. Spilled grains will frost over whatever they land on.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber

Glassroot Sap

Alchemical Ingredient

- Appearance: Clear, stringy sap with a faint ringing tone when stretched.
- Simple Test: Pull a thread between two spoons: it hardens into a glass filament.
- Handling: Once pulled into a filament it is brittle and sharp-edged. Handle the hardened thread carefully to avoid cuts.
- Found: Alchemist Chamber
